

Mesmerise yourself, fill your soul with animal magnetism, question the answers of single-minded science. Sentence yourself to understanding, jump over the abyss of confusion, accept your need to know, your ambition to write and read the truth and nothing but...

Fear of failure is more common than the cold, so don't let it stop you.

Drowning in opposite opinions, fight the urge to let it all go, fight to focus on the pattern that matters, on the core of the memplex. Fight for peace to begin with, fight without weapons, fight filled with love, fight the diffuse enemy inside. Start to fly, join joy in flight.

Be the sexy exception to the rule of the mules.

Somewhere between the lines I wrote the code you are supposed to understand if you are to save this planet from doom by stupidity or death by stability. We are also werewolves or well mules who hide in the tick tock toccata to kowtow clock - this is delightful, thousands of innocent dissociations presented for free,123 gratis the end of up to rien ne va plus.

Answer no machine, question no human. Question every gesture he or she may feverishly make, check every word for traces of truth, tracks of the truism, tricks of the trade. But never the person, never the individual, never the memplex itself. Not in the sense of putting a bullet between one's eyes if you [fail to] see what I mean. There are wild possibilities in machine applications, but you can never be sure what needs will be met. The most important bits are still hidden in wetware, even if silicone may recognise the Word.

Cerial newis Cerials / So Yes if spontaneous and awful X pressions will make a difference, Yes if sexy exceptions do. That's what makes trains so romantic...

All right in the next step is about no corrections, just going on and on within the frame that has been properly defined beforehand. Wahnfried, please through the lotion, please through the illusion, please peace peace please peace please please please peace through delusion, know I can't no not proceed without any corrections, it's in my nature, the headmaster of high minds, shaman of the sharp vision, focusing on the future of fun and intelligence. Let love overcome the limitations of lust, though.

And supposed to be someone adult no doubt selsenowisunreasonable rather we have no more space bar activity. The to go to sleep time time.
This is frustrating. Machinery should obey, no rule. Why no space bar? We don't know.
Almost as if computer users drunk only on is as drunk as we are.

No I'm certain I did not do this hilltop hilltop. Yes. Never on to machinery never answer machinery. Yes. For some reason or another, the space bar facility has been restored and reopened.

This is an experiment of adjustable criminal on throughout the world at large, a lot larger than the ancient Greeks ever imagined, a lot larger than even your grandparents were told it will happen in school, with the adjustment being made, small changes in history adding that little bit up that we need to overcome the signal boom boom, the signal of doom. So if something is important to keep repeating it, you repeating it, you repeating you if machinery fewer and fewer leave you add, adept at add out, yes at add to the adept at add that have about how about about that out at add out about out at out out out. But without correction, the mistake cannot be changed into good behaviour. The system does not learn if you always adapt to its mistakes. So you make a mistake if you only adapt. You will be the adept who fails to fulfil the test to be master.

Only a few people find the active exit and
